Support to create a home you can thrive in!

Do you have an intellectual disability or Autism?

Do you have a family member or ally that would like to assist you to move into and thrive in your own home?

Would you like to understand more about creating an Individualised Living Option so that you can live in your own home?

If the answer is yes, you can contact a member of the National Alliance of Capacity Building Organisations (NACBO).

Together, we are working on a project to assist people with an intellectual disability and Autism and their families to explore Individualised Living Options, and have a dedicated staff member available in your State to connect with, discuss ideas and answer your questions.

You can contact a team member from the above list for more information, or visit our website at <https://www.nacbo.org.au/>

We will also have a website coming soon called My Home, My Way www.myhomemyway.com.au
